

ReadyRemote™

put your money to work—faster.

Technical Requirements

ReadyRemote works well with existing software on most PCs. Your First Independent Relationship Manager or Cash Management Officer will review technical specifications and scanner options with you.

First Independent
Ready When You Are.®

Save time and hassles.

Instead of making a trip to the bank in the middle of a busy workday, ReadyRemote™ gives your staff more time for productivity.

Eliminate desk float.

Convenient workflow and swift electronic processing let you make deposits without delay, even after normal banking hours.

Simple to learn and use.

With its simple, friendly interface and comprehensive online help, ReadyRemote helps you get up to speed quickly. Training is quick, easy and available online.

Easy transaction lookup.

You can search by transaction amount or check amount for up to 60 days after the transaction, and also keep an archive of PDF check images.

Information at your fingertips.

Reports (available online or in PDF format) include Transaction Status, Deposit Detail and Summary, Workflow Audit, Deposit Adjustments and several others.

Secure password-protected access.

You can control access based on tasks that each employee needs to perform.

How ReadyRemote Works

1. Using a scanner and the ReadyRemote web application, you scan checks and transmit them to our processor's secure processing center.
2. Our processor transmits the image file to First Independent.
3. First Independent posts the deposit to your account. Deposits are credited the same day if they are submitted and received before the daily cutoff time.

Who Can Use ReadyRemote?

Businesses that handle a lot of checks, such as property management companies, medical clinics, non-profits, title insurance companies and colleges

Businesses whose offices aren't located near a First Independent Branch

Businesses with employees who would rather spend time doing something more productive than going to the bank

Deposit Dozens of Checks without Delay

ReadyRemote's simple-to-use web application puts all the information you need to make deposits at your desk.

"This is a marvelous product. We actually look forward to using it. It's very user-friendly—the navigation is self-explanatory."
